

SERVE BEEF TO FATHER ON SUNDAY

For that special Father's Day treat for Dad — a fine beef roast or a choice beef steak will hit the spot and set Dad up as king for a day in his own domicile, according to Mrs. Ralph Gill, who is heading a Tulare County Cow Belle committee that is working for beef dinners for all dads on Father's day, Sunday.

In keeping with the occasion, Porterville Mayor Lester J. Hamilton has given recognition to beef and to fathers with a special resolution, and Roger Gamble, at the Porterville Justesen store, is giving the mayor a thick, juicy T-bone for his efforts.

The Justesen store is also giving a steak to the first Father's day father, in cooperation with the Cow Belles.

Special event in observance of Father's day will be a picnic for Tulare County Cattlemen and Cow Belles Sunday, at Murry park, in Porterville, with families to gather about noon, enjoy a swim in the community pool, then sit down for dinner featuring, of course, beef.

Beef for Father's day is part of general promotion by the County Cow Belles designed to increase the consumption of beef. Other features of this program include publication and circulation of a Beef Recipe book — an idea that originated with the Tulare county group but was actually put into operation by the National Cow Belles — and the printing of beef

PROCLAMATION

WERERAS, Father has the tremendous responsibilities of providing and caring for his brood; and WERERAS, that requires great strength and stamina; and WHEREAS, beef is not only one of the most delicious of all foods but provides the human sinews for war and peace.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Lester J. Hamilton, Mayor of the City of Porterville, join with the Tulare County Cow Belles in proclaiming that BEEF shall provide the cornerstone of the traditional Father's Day meal and to urge that Father be served generously with his favorite food, and thus be accorded evidence of love and respect on his special day, and on every day of the year.

MARK BORROR REELECTED DIRECTOR

Mark Borrer, of Springville, was reelected as a director of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America at 71st annual convention of the association held last week in Milwaukee.

Albert B. Craig, of Sewickley, Pennsylvania, is association president; the association, representing the world's largest dairy cattle registry organization, has a total membership of more than 46,000.

TULARE COUNTY WHEAT ACREAGE IS UP SLIGHTLY

Tulare county wheat acreage allotment of 29,963 acres for 1957 is up 94 acres from 1956, although California's share of the 1957 national wheat allotment — 436,142 acres — is down 19,577 acres. National allotment is 55 million acres, minimum permitted by law.

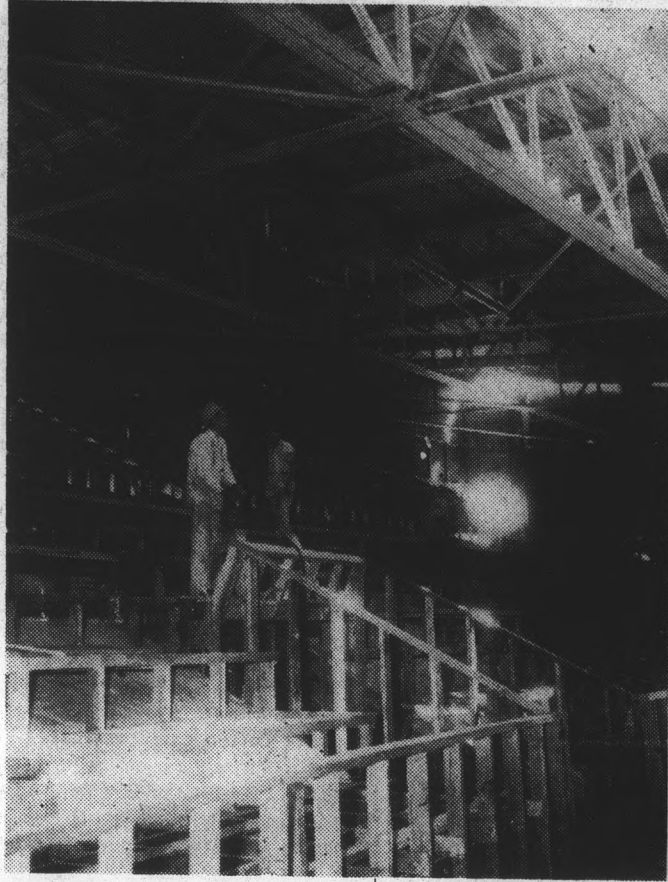

State and county wheat allotments are based on acreage for the past 10 years, planting trends, weather, tillable acres, crop rotation plan, types of soil and other factors.

KIDDIE SHOW TO FEATURE DAIRY MONTH

Christmas is coming early this year for some 1,200 Porterville area youngsters. It's all a part of the June Dairy Month celebration, with Porterville dairymen and Smith's Market playing the role of Santa Claus.

The kids are to be their guests at a free, three-hour-long movie to be held at the Porter theatre June 30. In addition, each of the youngsters attending the show will receive free gifts in the form of balloons, comic books, cut-out toys and, of course, free milk.

Tulare county's new Dairy queen, Miss Nonnette Fasso, of Tulare, and Dairy princess, Karen Mays, of Porterville, will be on hand to help distribute the free gifts to the children in this highlight and closing event in the month-long chain of festivities in connection with June Dairy month.

The free movie is one of three held in the county this year under the sponsorship of local dairymen and cooperating merchants.

Tickets for the show can be obtained, starting next Wednesday, at Smith's Market on West Olive street in Porterville.

"No purchases are necessary," states Howard Smith, owner of the local market. Tickets are free for the asking. It's our way of saying thank you to our many dairymen-customers and join in the celebration of June Dairy month."

Building, Tickets Before Sportsmen

Plans for further construction at the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association property just south of Rocky hill will be discussed at a meeting of association directors, set for the Porterville Elks lodge Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. President Arleigh Byers states that a final report will also be given on ticket sales for the recent sportsmen's banquet, with members who have not checked in tickets urged to do so prior to the Friday meeting.

Calcot Members Meeting Tuesday At Mooney Grove

Invitations to Calcot's annual membership meeting are in the mail to cotton growers and their families located in all parts of the San Joaquin valley, Southern California cotton counties and Arizona. Marking the close of the twenty-ninth year of the cotton marketing association, the meeting will be held Tuesday, June 19, in Mooney's Grove, near Visalia.

The day's program will get underway with registration of growers and guests at 10:30 a.m., followed by musical entertainment and serving of refreshments. The latest in cotton fiber testing and cotton classing methods will be on display, also cotton oil and seed products. A southern style open pit barbecue with all the trimmings will be served at noon.

The business meeting will start promptly after lunch and will be highlighted by short reports on the past season's operations and the marketing program and general outlook for next season.

Detailed information on grower returns from the 1955-56 crop will also be included in the annual report to be given by Russell Kennedy, general manager.

Directors to the Association's 27-man board will be elected. Members in each of the districts where directors' terms expire this year will have balloted by mail in advance of the meeting and results of the voting will be tabulated and announced at the business meeting.

The Association's board of directors will meet in the park pavilion prior to the general membership meeting and again following the meeting's conclusion, to seat the newly elected directors and organize the board.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM TO BE ONE OF FINEST OF ITS TYPE IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

By Bill Rodgers

Memorial auditorium that is now under construction at Olive and Jaye streets as a project of the Porterville Veterans' Memorial district, shapes up as one of the finest buildings of its type in the state and will be a real credit, as well as an asset to the community when it is completed this fall.

Seating 1,820 persons, the building has a sloping main floor and balcony with a seating arrangement that will provide clear vision of the stage from any point, in the auditorium, and with interior designed to give maximum acoustical efficiency.

Construction is of reinforced brick, conforming to Title 21 of the "Field Act"; construction plans have been approved by state architects with the same specifications required for modern school buildings.

Walls of the Memorial building — some 14½ inches, others nine and one-half inches thick — are actually two walls of brick with reinforced concrete between. Mortar holding bricks is concrete, fusing the bricks into solid walls that are locked together by concrete vertical and horizontal supports.

Horizontal columns of reinforced concrete 20 inches by 36 inches, have been placed at 22-foot intervals in walls of the building, with these walls tied into the columns, which rest on 36-inch caissons that extend some 15 feet into the ground.

Between the large horizontal columns are smaller columns of brick and reinforced concrete. The building is further tied together by 16-inch square vertical bond beams of brick, concrete and reinforcing steel.

Lateral stress in the building is taken also by the procenium arch at the front of the stage, this concrete arch extending from the foundation to the roof. A second, smaller concrete arch has been placed at the rear of the balcony.

METEOROLOGIST WILL SPEAK AT TERRA BELLA

"Cloud Seeding and Its Effects" will be discussed by W. F. Jones, meteorologist for the Southern Sierra corporation at a meeting of the Terra Bella Farm Bureau Center to be held Monday evening at the Terra Bella school.

James H. Way, Center chairman, states that a potluck dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m., with the Center to furnish coffee, rolls and butter; each family is asked to bring table service, a hot dish, salad or dessert.

PEACHES MOVE FROM DISTRICT

Blazing Gold and Gold Dust peaches are now moving from the Williams & Sons groves at Cotton Center, with crop "good" and market "fair". These two varieties will continue until about June 20, when Red Havens will come on.

JUDGMENTS GO AGAINST CITY CLERK

Two judgments were rendered against Porterville City Clerk Lionel W. Hemphill in Porterville small claims court, Tuesday.

Pioneer Motor Service received judgment for $48.59; V. C. McHenry received judgment for $101.75.

Calcot Members

Other business to come before the members will include voting on changing the Association's name from "California Cotton Co-operative Association, Ltd." to "Calcot, Ltd.", the name which the association has used as a cable address for many years, and has been unable to legally register previously.

Last year's meeting was attended by some 3,500, and this year, preparations are being made to accommodate a record breaking crowd of nearly 4,000. Guests invited include representatives of steamship, railroad and trucking lines, cotton brokerage firms, banking officials, and members of county, state and federal agricultural agencies.

Calcot's agricultural consultant, George Harrison, will have on display from the cotton marketing association's laboratory, the most modern fiber testing equipment available, and while one of his technicians operates the machines, Mr. Harrison will explain their uses to interested members.

There will also be demonstrations of cotton classing and displays of cotton samples, including many from major production areas outside the United States. Cotton classers will be on hand to describe quality factors influencing grade and some of the end products of California and Arizona cottons.

Memorial

actually rests on the brick walls.

Title 21 specifications call for a minimum compression test of 1,500 pounds per square inch — the pressure necessary to crumble the wall material. Actual tests of cores taken from the walls run from 2,000 to 3,350 pounds for the concrete between the wall bricks, while cores taken of a combination of the concrete and brick run from 2,538 pounds to 2,980 pounds.

Minimum requirement for "shear tests", the force necessary to tear bricks from the concrete mortar, is 100 pounds; actual tests run from 160 to 170 pounds.

All of which adds up to the fact that the new memorial building is solid indeed, and will still be standing in good condition when grandchildren of present residents of this community bring their grandchildren to auditorium events.

There can be no logical comparison made between brick construction of the old high school building that was demolished and the new memorial building. The old building had steel only in the pillars and the front, center section; mortar was of lime and sand — conventional for the days in which the old building was constructed, and while the brick walls of this building were strong enough in so far as down pressure was concerned, they had little to hold horizontal pressures.

As for the sloping floor construction of the new memorial building as compared to a flat floor surface, directors of the memorial district more than two years ago, after public meetings, decided that since the community already had two large flat floor buildings — the high school cafe-

County Boys Enjoy Program At Pyles Camp

Twenty-four boys from Tulare county — eight of them from the Porterville and Pixley areas — are enjoying early sessions of the R. M. Pyles Boys' camp at Lloyd meadow and on the Big Kern.

The camp, sponsored by the California oil industry, is now in full swing, with boys going through a 12-day cycle that includes a first stop at the main, Lloyd meadow camp, then several days on Kern river, where Mr. Pyles has constructed two camps, one above the forks of Big and Little Kern, the other at the lower end of Kern Flats.

Program director for the camp is Bob McAdams; supervisor is Darwin Griswold. Boys who would not otherwise be able to participate in a summer camp program are taken from the metropolitan areas of southern California, and from some San Joaquin valley areas, for the camp sessions.

Latest project being undertaken by Mr. Pyles is the oiling of the trail from Quaking Aspen to Lloyd Meadow.

teria and gymnasium, greatest need was for a true auditorium that could provide seats with vision of the stage and desirable accoustical properties, two features that, of necessity, must be sacrificed to a great extent in a flat floor building.

COTTON MEASUREMENTS FOR ACREAGE
COMPLIANCE NOW UNDERWAY IN COUNTY

Measurement of cotton for compliance with acreage allotments is now underway in Tulare county, with work handled through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. Reporters are operating in various areas of the county; it is hoped to have the surveys completed by August 1.

Compliance reporters are instructed to contact the farmer, if he is available on the farm, before beginning the measurement. The producer will be asked to give an estimate of the number of acres on his farm planted to cotton and to assist the reporter with any information or directions that will help to make a satisfactory measurement. The compliance reporter has been instructed that under no circumstances is he to calculate the acreage of cotton while on the farm. The reporter's job is to obtain the data needed for making this calculation in the office. The producer will be notified of the measurement as soon as possible after the field work is completed.

Since the cotton season is late this year, many fields have not yet been trimmed and head ditches worked out. Many cases of overplanting can be avoided, if the producer will trim out as soon as possible any areas which he does not intend to keep and disc out the areas for his head-ditch, or put in the head-ditch so that such areas will not be included in the measurement.

Reporters are instructed to measure the cotton they find on the farm and they can make no allowances for adjustments which may be made subsequent to their visit.

If the producer does not agree with the measurement sent to him on the official notification form, he can pay for a re-measurement at the rate of $5.00 plus $0.10 per acre for each acre of his allotment. If he measures his own field and can submit a sketch with measurements indicating that an error may have been made by the reporter in measuring his field, a re-check may be made without charge. As in the past, if a producer pays for re-measurement and it is found that he was within his allotment when the original measurement was made, the re-measurement fee will be returned to him.

In the event a farmer is overplanted, and plows down the excess acreage, it is helpful if he will notify the office that the plowdown has been completed.

Activities Reported
By Commissioner

In a report from Oscar Hemphill, county agricultural commissioner, it is stated that Valencia harvest is about complete, early peach and plum harvest has started, potato sheds are operating in the southern part of the county, inspection for Red Scale is being made in city yards, and rodent control program is underway throughout the county.

Olive growers and processors are receiving, on a pro rata basis, $100,000 that was remaining when the industry marketing order terminated June 30.

Shad by the thousands are now running up the various rivers, particularly the American River and the flyfishermen are having the sports of their lives. The fish are now being taken in the first two miles of the American but wildlife officials expect them to be farther up and just below the Nimbus Dam within the week or ten days.

Shad have also just entered the Feather River, but no report has been received on the Yuba shad run. The fish have been present in the Stanislaus, San Joaquin and Tuolumne rivers for some time now but the water had been entirely too high for any artificial lure fishing.

There are two types of legal fishing for shad, for the sport and thrill with fly rod and fly or other light lure and by netting for food.

There is no closed fishing season or bag limit on shad and night fishing is permitted with hand dip nets.

Major spots for sport fishing for shad are the Russian river from Duncan Mills to Healdsburg (last report was water high and muddy), the American river from Watt Avenue to Nimbus Dam, Feather river below the Sutter-Butte dam and the Yuba below Daguerre Pt. dam.

Shad hit viciously on streamer flies and small wobbling lures and fight like a steelhead. Recommended flies include those with silver bodies, white hackle and red chenille head. They must be weighted as the shad is not a surface feeder.

Shad inhabit fairly deep swift water below riffles or the upstream portion of a deep hole. Sometimes they are found in deep water with adjacent strong current.

Although the fish is rather bony, the flesh is excellent and is a delicacy smoked.

March Of Dimes
Totals $56,478
In Tulare County

A total of $56,478.66 was collected in the 1956 Tulare county March of Dimes campaign, it was reported at a meeting of directors in Exeter, recently. Campaign expense ran 2.6 per cent of the total.

Chairman of the Tulare county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is Charles Haener, of Porterville; vice chairman is Howard K. Way, of Exeter. Other directors from the southeastern Tulare county area include: Mrs. Hazel Webb, Lindsay; Mrs. Beverly Parker, Pixley; Emerson Button and Mel Souza, Porterville; Milton Turner, Terra Bella, and Earl Pugh, Tipton.

Half the money raised in Tulare county was sent to the national foundation, however, $20,000 has been returned to the county for care and treatment of polio patients in Tulare county.

Striped bass are being taken from the San Joaquin river near the Gustine Bridge and Hill Ferry, Highway 152. This river is also producing many small catfish in that area. Many frogs being taken throughout Merced county.

Kings county reports improved Kings river fishing with fair catches of bass and catfish near Lemoore and Stratford.

Sportsmen's Council of Central California meets in Salinas this weekend.

Isabella lake is alive with large mouth bass with fish up to three quarters of a pound being taken, also some trout and lots of catfish.

Our book on opportune tasks for gardeners indicates water is an important item. It probably should mention water for drinking and water for swimming but it seems to be more worried about the plants than the planter and only mentions water for them.

Really the way to water is to turn it on and let it run awhile. This curling the thumb around the end of the hose will get you nowhere. With the sprinklers available now you can water square, round, long, short and oddball pieces with a minimum of trouble. There are fancy ones called swinging sprinklers, working ones called walking sprinklers, and others down to forty-five cents.

Having a sprinkler isn't the whole answer because you should water reasonably carefully. Trees should be watered deeply, letting it soak down all night. Lawns should be watered thoroughly and then allowed to dry a bit before watering again. Most shrubs and small flowering plants need extra watering and a good soaking at least once a week is the answer to many plant problems.

The native plants like Toyon, Ceanothus, and such require less water during summer. Daphne also needs a good drying out between times. These do best if planted just beyond the reach of your hose. In any case, don't waste your water — someday you'll have to drink it!

COUNTY GOAL NEARLY REACHED FOR CANCER FUND

Ten communities in Tulare county have exceeded their quotas in the American Cancer Society's 1956 Cancer crusade, it was announced this week by E. C. Stearns and L. R. Quinby of Visalia, co-chairmen of the county-wide drive for funds to be used in cancer research, education, and service.

With late returns still to be accounted for, the Tulare County branch reported, as of June 1, the following amounts contributed by these communities: Strathmore, $483.71 (241.8 per cent of goal); Ducor, $292 (194.6 per cent); Farmersville, $173.40 (173.4 per cent); Springville, $251.25 (167.5 per cent); Earlimart $350.26 (140 per cent); Visalia, $5,826.38 (137.1 per cent); Three Rivers, $363 (121 per cent); Orosi, $808.98 (102.9 per cent); Dinuba, $1,539.27 (102.6 per cent); Exeter, $1,772 (101.2 per cent).

Three communities appear to be within reach of their goals: Lindsay with $1,449.02 collected (96.6 per cent of goal); Porterville with $2,614.20 collected (95 per cent of goal); and Woodlake with $293.80 collected (83.9 per cent of goal).

Returns from other areas helped to swell the total amount received to date to $17,635.92; budget is $20,000.

COTTON HAS HIGH VALUE

California produced 1,205,000 bales of cotton in 1955, valued at $200,647,000; cottonseed production was 495,000 tons, valued at $22,820,000. Cotton outranked all other crops in the state in terms of cash value and California was listed as the fourth-ranking cotton producing state in the nation.

GOOD, SOUND LOGIC

What with all the gobbledygook that one reads about the farmer and his problems, it is always refreshing and encouraging to read the sound and logical words of Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

A recent statement by Mr. Shuman concerns the argument that farmers must have high, fixed price supports because the tariff, fair trade pricing, minimum wage and other subsidies of business and labor have given these groups advantages that must be offset by similar government action in agriculture.

Mr. Shuman asks, "Is a low income farmer really benefitted by a subsidy payment which causes him to continue in an unsatisfactory situation?"

Then he asks which is the most cruel, economic law which operates to cause a person to change his occupation or mode of life quickly, or political actions which delay these needed adjustments.

"We all believe in government action to aid the handicapped and the needy, but we should consider well whether or not government is capable of deciding who should farm and who should preach or teach," Mr. Shuman says.

He believes that individuals, by and large, are better off if they comply with the natural laws of economics, rather than to depend on the "magic wand" of the federal government.

And that, to us, is good, sound logic.

"ITZENHAUSER PLACE" WAS LAST WEEK'S MYSTERY FARM

If you have ever been to Springville, you no doubt spotted last week's Mystery Farm — the "Old Itzenhauser place" that sits on the point of the hill as you approach Globe.

Fred Hudson now owns the property, consisting of about 28 acres of citrus and about 12 of pasture; Bob Hudson lives on the ranch.

The ranch was purchased by the Itzenhauser brothers — Fred, who now lives in Porterville, and the late Henry and Charles Itzenhauser, back in 1914, from W. W. Welfer, who had set out the citrus trees about five years earlier.

Elmer C. Frye purchased the ranch in 1944 and Fred Welch owned it for a short time prior to the time that Mr. Hudson acquired it.

The house, that has become something of a landmark, was constructed in 1916-17.

The Hudsons have an 11x14 enlargement of their place waiting for them at Weisenberger Farm Supply, last week's Mystery Farm featured advertiser.

Soil Bank Would Help Control Farm Surpluses Says Assistant Secretary

Until agricultural surpluses are cut down to "manageable levels", no program will have an opportunity to work effectively, in the opinion of Marvin L. McLain, assistant secretary of agriculture.

In a recent address the assistant secretary pointed out that the purpose of the proposed "soil bank" is to cut down supply and "to make it possible to start working out from under surplus holdings."

The two main objectives of the program, he pointed out, are to "assure needed additional production adjustments, made realistically in the light of the existing surplus situation", and "to store and hold fertility in the soil, to be drawn on when needed in the future."

Expressing the opinion that the proposed program would have great value to producers, middlemen and consumers the assistant secretary said:

"It will help the producer get his supplies more nearly in line with demand, thus improving his free market generally. At the same time, he will get special financial assistance to cushion the transition and help offset his temporary loss of production volume."

"It will help the middleman, because his welfare is tied up directly with the welfare of the producers. If the farmer is prosperous, operating under sound programs which do not disrupt the normal marketing machinery, the middleman is in a strong position."

"It will help consumers, because they have a big stake in adequate supplies at fair prices — both now and in the future. They do not like to see food wasted, and would rather see the surplus part of our reserves carried in the soil for future use."

News Of The SPRINGVILLE COMMUNITY

By WINNIE GAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Priest and family have moved to Susanville where Jim is still employed by the Forest Service but as a dispatcher.

Mrs. Vera Clinkenbeard is in Exeter Hospital following a major operation but is expected to be home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gage and children, Linda, Anita and Butch, visited over the weekend with relatives in Norwalk and Fullerton. Linda stayed there for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Knox and daughter of Toronto, Canada, are here visiting her brothers, Pat and Buster McDonald and families.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bailey of Cedar Slope are building an addition to their home and have sold several lots for new cabins to be built.

The Leslie Produce truck makes two trips a week to R. M. Pyles Boys' Camp with supplies and also stops at Cedar Slope, Camp Nelson, Quaking Aspen and Rutherford's Pack Station, which is a new convenience for the mountain folks.

R. M. Pyles boys' camp above Quaking Aspen has boys from the valley this week as southern schools aren't out. They have built new dormitories and are making plans to care for more boys this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gage and children, Steven and Sharon, of Bakersfield, were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Gage.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sly and children of Oildale were weekend guests of her father, Jim Kille.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Peterson of Minneapolis are visiting her sister, Mrs. Earl Kinyon and mother, Mrs. J. J. Paden.

Bible vacation school started Monday at the Community Methodist Church with sixty children enrolled and fourteen adults as instructors, and Mrs. Marjorie Poly as superintendent.

On Thursday night, June 21 will be parents' night. School closes June 22.

Mrs. Donna Ranson of Tacoma, Wash., visited this week with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gohame, and accompanied her parents to Puente to witness the graduation of her cousin, Velma Edwards, from Puente high school.

Miss Jean Miller of Detroit, Michigan, is visiting her sister, Mrs. "Buster" McDonald and family.

Mother And Son In Graduation

Mother and son were in the graduating class of Porterville high school last Friday night.

Richard Leroy Cosby was one of the honor student graduates; his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Edna Cosby, who left high school in her junior year in 1937 to be married, was also in the graduating class, completing her high school work at evening school and by home study.

Heavy infestations of the citrus flat mite are giving trouble in Imperial valley.

Farm Bureau Officers To Be Installed In August

OUR TOWN

As my friend, Dorothy Storme, would say, "It's lemon slush time, Kiddies!" Now if you don't know what a lemon slush is I will keep you in the dark no longer. It's just lemon juice and sugar over pulverized ice, sort of a sloppy lemonade. Your Ice Creamery on North Main street makes them, so give the kiddies a treat... A nice lazy way to make like a parent and take advantage of a summer afternoon nap at the same time is to take the small fry to Murry park, select a tree for shade, set the boundaries for the wee ones and relax. This idea has been tried and approved by me. Ah yes, summer is here.

Did you wonder where everyone was the first three evenings of this past week? Did you notice the extra big smile worn by all the merchants or accidentally hear one of them saying, "Whoops!" All this comes from the wonderful sessions on Salesmanship as presented by the charming and enthusiastic Mr. Patterson, at the Woman's Club, and arranged for by the C. of C. Merchants Committee. I'm glad the merchants in Our Town are interested in improving themselves as salesmen. Of course I'm happy with the swell personal service you always get when you shop in Our Town... Salesmanship is one of the fine arts and not a day goes by that we don't have to use it. We use it on our friends and our families and in just plain old everyday everything. If you are a successful wife I'll betcha you're a good salesman.

Received a card from Ruth Gaither. "Look what a notion I took", says Ruth on a beautiful post card from Oslo. Ruth took the Polar flight to Copenhagen, Amsterdam and then Zurich. Ruth has an apartment in Zurich for the summer... Sure would like to drop in for a weekend.

Saturday night marks the big Patio Party presented by the Las Madrenas Guild for the Valley Children's Hospital in Fresno. The party will be held at the Merritt Estates in Tulare.

"THOROUGHbred CHILDREN"

A recent article in a well-known magazine tells of the cattleman's woes in raising cattle to suit the tastes of modern man. In producing cattle that yield more and better steaks a not-desired by-product has been the large number of dwarf cattle, in some cases running as high as 12%.

While we can produce cattle to bring the best prices yet we find it difficult to produce children that bring the best blessings to their parents. No one as yet has devised a super race of children. And perhaps that's good, for fear that we'd be producing a race of dwarfs if we should do with children as we do with calves.

God's plan doesn't include child-breeding eugenics, but it does include "Training up a child in the way he should go, and when he is tomorphy or components of two or perhaps all three types? Many scientists believe that they can predict how your child will act — his eating, sleeping and social behavior, if he will be a success in physical skills, even to what extent he will express his emotions. This can be done by carefully analyzing the human physical structure. Your body was here before your personality was developed... kinda like which comes first... chicken or the egg. It makes pretty good sense and it's fun to figure out which type you are... or explain to a friend, "Johnny loves to eat because he is endomorphy and has a large stomach, he also loves people and is affectionate... the other half of him is mesomorphy which is the reason he is so noisy and always bangs the door." Even if you don't go that far you will find Ames and Ilgs' book called "Child Behavior" a fine book to read. You can get it at the library as soon as I return it.

SIGN-UP STARTED FOR RED CROSS SWIM WEEK

Persons desiring to enroll in the annual Red Cross swim week that will be conducted at the Porterville Municipal pool June 25 to July 7, can sign up at the Porterville Red Cross office on Oak street any morning until June 25.

Schedule, as announced by Myron Wilcox, head instructor, is: 8:00 - 9:00 a.m., junior and senior life saving; 9:00-9:30 a.m., swimmers, boys and girls; 9:30 - 10:00 a.m., intermediate boys and beginner boys, eight years of age and over.

10:00-10:30 a.m., beginner girls, eight years and over, and adults, men and women; 10:30-11:00 a.m., beginner girls, 6-7 years old and intermediate girls; 11:00-11:30 a.m., beginner boys, 6-7 years, and 5:30-6:30 p.m., adult men and women.

The public is invited to a free film and lecture on learning to swim and artificial respiration, sponsored by the Red Cross, at the Porterville high school cafeteria, 7:30 p.m., June 21.

old he will not depart therefrom." (Prov. 22:6) The Bible says quite a bit about the purity of the human race, but that's still a far cry from cross-breeding the various nationalities to make a race of giants. God does say that "Except ye be converted and become as little children ye shall not enter the kingdom of heaven." (Matt. 18:3).

We don't need "thoroughbred children" as much as we need thorough-read parents who teach their children the fourth R, that of Religion.

THE OLD DAYS

PORTERVILLE ENTERPRISE March, 1909

Lamkin-McAfee Co. report that it is time for men the think of their Easter togs. They offer suits in all the new shades in the famous brand names of Adler Bros., Society Clothes and Fad Clothes at prices ranging from $15 to $35.

Auditorium of the new Congregational church is practically completed and workmen are now painting the exterior and doing finishing work in the basement.

Ninth grade examinations in Tulare county will be held from the 26th to the 30th, according to Superintendent C. J. Walker, who visited Porterville this week. There are about 325 pupils, outside of the cities of Tulare and Visalia, who will take the tests.

Marion Anderson passed through Yokohl valley a few days ago with a large drove of fat hogs that he was taking to market.

Members of the senior class at Porterville high school will have a practical demonstration of how city governments are conducted when they attend the meeting of the city council at the engine house this evening.

WATER SAFETY

By Myron Wilcox

It is the aim of the American Red Cross that everyone know how to give artificial respiration in case a person should stop breathing either because of drowning, electric shock, or inhaling gas fumes.

The first thing that people want to do is to rush the person that has stopped breathing to a hospital or to a doctor. Unfortunately, this procedure will probably insure the victim's death. Begin immediately to give the victim artificial respiration, then send for the doctor and the fire department's inhalator. In this way you are doing all you can to preserve life. Artificial respiration must be started as soon as possible if you are to save the person's life and must be kept going for hours or until the doctor tells you there is no hope.

In case of a small child it would be possible to take him to a hospital or doctor but artificial respiration must be kept going in this manner: Sit down in the car and place the child face down on your lap. Place one hand under the child's chest, the other hand on the child's back. Press gently but firmly on the back between the shoulders, giving artificial respiration. In this way you will preserve any spark of life that is still present.

For more information come to the free film and lecture being given by the Red Cross on June 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.
